DEDICATED TO EXCELLENCE

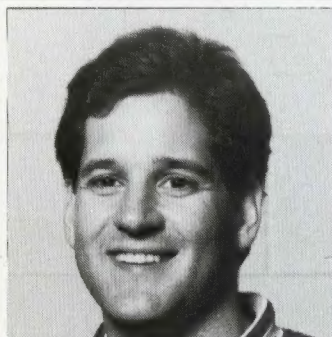

A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Concordia's commitment to hockey excellence began in 1889 when a team of Loyola students won the coveted Stanley Cup. While the hockey has changed since then, Concordia's ability to offer quality education in conjunction with high intensity athletics has not.

Today's version of the Stingers began in 1975 when two schools rich in hockey tradition (Sir George Williams and Loyola) joined forces. Since then, the team has won nine league titles, compiled the best record in Canadian College history against N.C.A.A. and European competition, and has won more tournaments than any other university in Canada.

Although the Stinger hockey program has produced 12 All-Canadians and sent over 40 players to professional hockey, the team is equally proud of its academic record. To date, 90% of all varsity hockey players have graduated from the institution and many have done so with distinction, including two school valedictorians – Jim Corsi in 1976 and John Sliskovic in 1983. The Concordia hockey philosophy is clear: gifted athletes are to be given the opportunity to develop their hockey skills in a disciplined environment that encourages academic achievement.

With a first-rate coaching staff, a winning tradition, outstanding academics, a competitive schedule and established support services, Concordia continues to be the place for the serious hockey player.

YVES BEAUCAGE
Head Coach

Yves Beaucage, a former assistant to head coach Paul Arsenault, is the new Stinger head coach.

Beaucage is considered one of the top young coaches on the university hockey scene. He began his coaching career with the McGill hockey program in 1985 and served three years as a full-time assistant. He joined Arsenault in 1988 and served as Director of Player Recruitment as well as assistant coach for the Stingers.

Beaucage was a star forward for the Redmen in the early 80's. He holds several team records and was the team captain during the 1983-84 season. Following graduation he played professional hockey in France for one year.

Paul Arsenault retired from coaching as North America's third winningest coach in college hockey.

STINGER HIGHLIGHT COREY CUP VICTORY '90

CENTER PICTURE: Concordia Captain, Richard Laplante, accepts the 1990 Corey Cup. The rookie laden Stingers captured the trophy in dramatic fashion with a 5 to 2 come-from-behind victory over the 6th ranked McGill Redmen in front of 7000 fans at the Montreal Forum.

WHY CHOOSE THE CON

ACADEMICS: Concordia University has established itself as an outstanding academic institution offering quality education at the most affordable tuition in the country. Both the Business and Communication Arts programs are widely respected for their commitment to excellence.

DEPARTMENTAL SUPPORT: The Stingers are guided by Yves Beaucage, one of Canada's most outstanding young coaches, a top therapy staff and an athletic administration dedicated to excellence on and off the field.

MONTREAL: Beautiful, vibrant and one of North America's most historical cities, Montreal has something for every taste.

TRAVEL: The Stingers annually play the best college teams in North America and have a winning record against NCAA competition. Since 1975, the team has travelled to Scotland, California and twice to Czechoslovakia. Upcoming trips in the early 90's will see the Stingers tour Ireland, Switzerland, Germany, and return to Czechoslovakia.

CONCORDIA EXPERIENCE?

JV-HOCKEY: The JV program offers the younger, inexperienced player an immediate opportunity to play at Concordia. The team has helped develop 5 All-Canadians and has sent two players to professional hockey in Europe.

EUROPEAN CONNECTION: Concordia has outstanding professional contacts in both North America and Europe. Five recent graduates are currently starring in Germany, Sweden and Scotland, and three others are coaching in Switzerland and Italy.

GRADUATES: Best-known graduates include: former Buffalo Sabres defenseman, Larry Carrière; Bob Berry, a coach with the St-Louis Blues; ex-Washington goaltender, Bernie Wolfe and former WHA star Jim Corsi, now the top goaltender in Italy.

PROSPECTS: If you are interested in becoming a part of a winning tradition that has all this to offer and more, contact Yves Beaucage, Concordia University, 7141 Sherbrooke st. W., Montreal, Quebec, H4B 1R6 Telephone: (514) 848-3850.

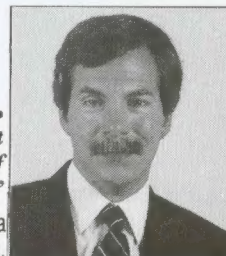

STINGERS SAID IT...

Richard Laplante...

"Personal support on and off the ice allowed me to realise my athletic and academic potential."

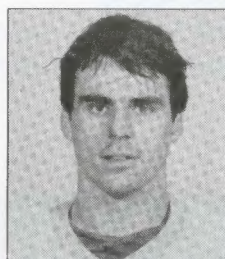

1988 recipient of the Guy Lafleur Trophy for combining academic excellence with athletic achievement.

Bernie Wolfe...

"Great friends, great hockey, great times...One of the best experiences of my life."

Former Washington Capital goaltender now a Financial Consultant in Washington.

Frank Morris...

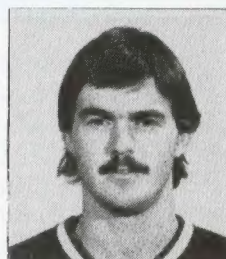

"Four years at Concordia gave me a degree, two National Championship Silver Medals and a chance to play pro hockey in Europe."

An Alexandria, Ont. Jr. B graduate and two-time Father Cass Award winner as the Stinger's most inspirational player.

Gilles Hébert...

"A great way to study in English and associate with a winning tradition."

A former Stinger captain and leading scorer, now a partner with a prestigious engineering firm in Montreal.

John Sliskovic...

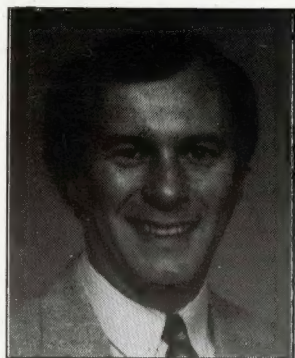

"I know of no other university that works as hard to develop 'winners' on and off the ice."

Concordia's 1983 Valedictorian now a chartered Accountant in London, Ontario.

Concordia Today

BOB PHILIP
Athletic Director

From its founding institutions, Loyola College and Sir George Williams University, Concordia inherited a long history of providing higher education to men and women of all ages and backgrounds. Today, Concordia is proud to continue this tradition by offering a university experience that combines some of the most exciting and innovative education in North America with highly competitive athletics.

Concordia offers low student-teacher ratios, excellent and accessible professors and the diversity of two distinct campuses.

Quality coaching and a dedication to the development of student athletes carries on a proud athletic tradition that has spanned ten decades.

Combining high performance athletics with academics requires hard work and discipline. However, the rewards are great. You will leave Concordia University not only with a quality education but also with the motivation, dedication and work habits essential for future successes.

If you are serious about learning and are willing to make the commitment needed for athletics, then Concordia University is where you want to be.

Admissions

Concordia's academic department and associated institutes are grouped into four faculties: ARTS AND SCIENCE, COMMERCE AND ADMINISTRATION, ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE and FINE ARTS. Together they offer more than 180 academic programs leading to 8 undergraduate, 7 graduate and 15 doctoral degrees. Some programs are quite traditional, while others reflect the university's innovative response to society's changing needs.
